What's Beauty? Call ye that your own,
A Flow'r that fades as soon as blown!
Those Eyes of so divine a Ray,
What are they? Mould'ring, mortal Clay.
Those Features cast in heav'nly Mould,
Shall, like my coarser Earth, grow old;
Like common Grass, the fairest Flow'r
Must feel the hoary Season's Pow'r.

IX Mon. November hath xxx days.

Old Socrates was obstinately Good,
Virtuous by force, by Inclination lewd.
When secret Movements drew his Soul aside,
He quell'd his Lust, and stemm'd the swelling Tide;
Sustain'd by Reason still, unmov'd he stood,
And steady bore against th' opposing Flood.
He durst correct what Nature form'd amiss,
And forc'd unwilling Virtue to be his.
